AUDIENCE WITH POPE CANCELLED

Col. Roosevelt Would Not Accept Conditions Imposed by Vatican

REGRET IS EXPRESSED

Over Differences of Opinion—Has But Two Engagements In Rome.

Rome, April 4. — The audience which it was believed ex-President Roosevelt would have with the pope Tuesday next will not take place, owing to conditions which the Vatican has imposed, and which Mr. Roosevelt refuses to accept.

Although the definite negotiations relative to the audience ended before Mr. Roosevelt left Egypt, the announcement was withheld until after Mr. Roosevelt reached Rome last night, at the solicitation of his American Catholic friends here, who believed that in the meantime the Vatican might change its attitude. One of the former president's American friends, who has been with him in Egypt, came to Rome yesterday, without, however, any authorization from Mr. Roosevelt, and interviewed Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary, in an endeavor to avoid a situation, which, as it now stands, has caused a real sensation in Rome, although it was not entirely unexpected. But his efforts were unavailing.

While at Gondokoro in February last Mr. Roosevelt wrote to Ambassador Leishman, saying he would be glad of the honor of an audience with King Victor Emmanuel and the pope. The audience with the king was promptly arranged. Before an arrangement could be reached relative to an audience with the pope, several telegrams were passed and the negotiations were ended by Mr. Roosevelt refusing in any way to be limited as to his conduct, and announcing that an audience with the pope under the circumstances was now impossible.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Roosevelt, while declining to accept any audience with the pope, had neither directly nor indirectly, before, during or after the negotiations made, or considered any engagements in Rome except those of an official character and he actually entered Rome last night with but two definite engagements, the audience with the king and the dinner to be given in his honor by the municipality. The history of the negotiations is about as follows:

While at Cairo Mr. Roosevelt received the following telegram from Ambassador Leishman, dated March 25:

"Mr. Kennedy, rector of the American Catholic College, in reply to an inquiry which I caused to be made, requests that the following communication be transmitted to you: 'The holy father will be delighted to grant an audience to Mr. Roosevelt on April 7, and hopes that nothing will arise to prevent it, such as the much regretted incident that made the reception of Mr. Fairbanks impossible.'"

Replying by cable to Ambassador Leishman, March 25, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Please present the following to Mr. Kennedy: 'It would be a real pleasure to me to be presented to the holy father, for whom I entertain high respect, both personally and as the head of a great church. I fully recognize his entire right to receive or not receive whomsoever he chooses, for any reason that seems good to him, and if he does not receive me, I shall not for a moment question the propriety of his action. On the other hand, I in my turn, must decline to make stipulations, which in any way would limit my freedom of conduct. I trust that on April 5 he will find it convenient to recognize me.'"

March 28 Mr. Roosevelt at Cairo received a cablegram from Ambassador Leishman giving a message from Mr. Kennedy, which concluded by saying:

"The audience cannot take place except on the understanding expressed in the former message."

The following day Mr. Roosevelt sent another message to the American ambassador, saying: "The proposed presentation is, of course, now impossible."

Mr. Roosevelt particularly desires that the incident shall be regarded by his friends, both Catholic and Protestant, in America, as personal, and that it shall not give rise to an acrimonious controversy.

"Nothing but regret is expressed by Americans and others here over the differences of opinion which cancelled the tentative engagement at the Vatican. This regret is even more keen on the part of the American Catholics than those of other religious alliances, because they fear that the incident will greatly hurt the church everywhere in the world.

These Catholics say that Mr. Roosevelt's fame as an advocate of complete tolerance, anywhere, and as a friend of Catholicism in America should have protected him.

"On behalf of the pope and his advisers, it is explained that citizens of other countries cannot understand the punctilious and sensitive code which rules the Vatican. Under this code the pope must not receive visitors who first call upon the king of Italy. Mr. Roosevelt visits the king in the morning and dines at the palace later, but that is not the cause of the misunderstanding."

CONTRIVERSY COULD HAVE BEEN AVOIDED

Rome, April 4. — Cardinal Merry Del Val, papal secretary of state, today placed the blame for the Vatican controversy upon the shoulders of Col. Roosevelt. Without issuing any formal statement, he indicated that if Roosevelt had quietly acquiesced in the plans made for his reception by the pope, the Vatican would have been only too glad to make it plain that his acquiescence was in no way a submission on his part, and a world-wide discussion that has already reached the dimensions of religious political tempest could thus have been avoided. The affair, apparently, made no difference in King Victor's attitude, for he received Roosevelt at the palace this morning with unusual warmth.

The king, the colonel and Kermitt held a two hours' chat. An audience of this length with the king, except on official business, is almost unprecedented.

STATEMENT FROM FR. O'BRYEN

The refusal of the pope to receive a man of Roosevelt's standing unless the latter complied with his own conditions, will settle forever the charge that worldly power or wealth can influence a man who believes himself to be the representative of God on earth. On the other hand, the position taken by Roosevelt proves that he is not so much influenced by what the Catholics of the world may think of him as by what might be thought of him by religious bodies outside of the Catholic church and by the different political powers that are opposed to it. As a Catholic born of the plain people, I must say that I have now more respect for the successor of St. Peter than I ever had, for I feel convinced that this event will mark in history one of the greatest proofs since that of Canossa, that the pope is like his Master, no respecter of persons when any principle which he believes to be in his keeping is in any way jeopardized.

Baltimore, April 4. — The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in session here today passed resolutions commending Roosevelt for his action at Rome. Former Vice President Fairbanks was included in the endorsement.

Columbus, April 4. — The street railway company today announced an increase of 1-c. per hour in the wages of its motormen and conductors, effective April 8, with another 1-2c. increase effective Oct. 7.

The company is willing to reinstate the discharged men, but not to deal with the men through their union. Whether the men will strike will likely be determined at a meeting tonight.

FOREIGNER KILLED BY PASSENGER

Guliano Chille, an Italian, living at Central City, three miles west of Newark, who for some time past has been employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, as a section hand, on the Newark section, was the victim of a fatal accident Saturday evening. It seems as though he had hurried west on the railroad tracks about 1:15 o'clock, when a passenger train No. 2, engine 1504, and Conductor Langford in charge, west bound, which was running at a good rate of speed, struck and knocked him from the track at a point about fifty feet west of Union street, in the West End. Parties who had witnessed the accident ran to his assistance and telephoned for Bowers' ambulance, which quickly responded. The injured man was placed in the ambulance, which started for the Sanatorium, but before it arrived at the institution the man was so far gone that it was deemed advisable not to disturb him and he died in the wagon. The body was then taken to the undertaking rooms of Mr. Bowers where it was prepared for interment.

The deceased had been in this country but a comparatively short time, and leaves a widow and six children, three sons and three daughters in the old country to mourn his death. He had been working for the B. & O. railroad company on the section since coming to this part of the country and was No. 468 on the extra gang.

WILL BE NO OPPOSITION TO HON. W. A. ASHBROOK

The following is taken from the district would be an almost impossible task and the cost would be so great that it is not thought likely that he would put up a contest.

"Hon. Wm. A. Ashbrook, it seems, will have a clear field."

While the direct vote of the people at the primaries in the nomination for Congressmen has practically settled the contest in favor of Ashbrook, who will carry an overwhelming vote, still Mr. Ashbrook was fully prepared for the result of a convention, had one been held. There never would have been more than one ballot in any event. In fact, our Congressman would have been honored with a nomination by acclamation.

"Wooster people were asking on Friday whether Mr. E. S. Wertz, since the passing of the congressional primary law, would be a candidate. While Mr. Wertz would not disclose his plans for the future, yet it is not probable that he will enter the race, although his friends are urging him to do so. To make a campaign of the five counties in the

PROGRESSIVE MEMBERS OF LEGISLATURE FIGHTING AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT

Columbus, April 4. — If the reactionaries in the legislature, with the corporations behind them, can obstruct action and bring about adjournment without the passage of the senate of five bills now pending there, the common people of the state will lose practically everything that this session of the legislature might have done for them.

The progressive members of the house fought through five really important and progressive measures: the Woods public utilities bill, the Langdon tax commission bill, the Smith tax limit bill, the non-partisan judiciary bill, and the Russell bill, which removes the arbitrary limit to damages which an employer may be allowed for injuries received. All of these measures, passed by the house, are buried in senate committees. The Aldrich trio of the senate, Senators Patterson, Mather and Lawyer, does not intend that the bills shall pass. The corporation

YEGGS SECURE $10,000 IN CASH

Lincoln, Neb., April 4. — The First National bank of Randolph, Neb., was dynamited today and robbed of $10,000 in gold and currency. Marshal Carroll was held up in the street, bound and gagged and relieved of his gun by three masked men and then placed in a back room of the bank while the robbers wrecked the vault. The robbers escaped with their loot.

EDDIE FAY, THE MOST FAMOUS BURGLAR IN THE UNITED STATES

New York, April 4. — The police world is breathing a bit easier since the arrest of Eddie Fay, known to the underworld as the "millionaire burglar." Fay was arrested after a sensational fight in New York for robbing the postoffice at Richmond, Va., of more than $50,000 in stamps and money. He has long lived a dual life, and the police declare he has more than $200,000 in cash hidden in various safety deposit boxes throughout the country. Fay has served time in various prisons but so far no lock or key has been strong enough to hold him, as he has always managed to escape. His favorite pastime is to pose as an English banker and to wear the most expensive English clothing, his evening suits being a model of perfection. When Fay was arrested in New York while trying to make away with his trunks containing the stolen stamps he was taken to the Tombs and then an effort was made to secure a photograph of him. For three hours a sensational fight followed, and in the end the police were beaten, as Fay could not be held still long enough to get a picture. The only photograph ever taken of him was secured by the Pinkerton Detective agency and this picture is being sent to every police chief in the country. Fay has been placed under $20,000 bonds, which he agreed to furnish, but the district attorney's office, acting in conjunction with the postoffice officials is ready to raise his bond to $50,000. Fay declares he will fight a legal battle that will keep the police busy for a long time when his case comes to trial.

FAMOUS ORATORS WILL DEFEND PRESIDENT'S WORK

Washington, April 4. — The Taft administration is about to defend itself aggressively before the people of the United States. Convinced that the public mind has been impressed by attacks of various kinds upon the administration in many parts of the country, and that the criticisms cannot be permitted to pass unanswered without injury to Republican prestige, the party leaders have decided to "carry the war into the enemy's country." President Taft is now declared to be ready and anxious to assume the offensive.

The opening guns will be fired next Saturday in Washington by the President in person, and in Chicago by Attorney-General Wickersham.

Mr. Taft will speak in this city on the subject of organization and he will be supported by other powerful orators of the party. Attorney-General Wickersham's subject will be the policies of the administration.

The speeches by the President in Washington, Senator Lodge, Representative McKinley of Illinois, president of the Republican Congressional committee; Representative Duncan McKinley of California; John Hayes Hammond, president of the National League of Republican clubs; John A. Stewart, president of the New York League, and John G. Capers, National committeeman for South Carolina, at the same gathering and that of Mr. Wickersham at Chicago are expected to supply the themes for other prominent Republicans.

HIGHER COST OF LIVING LAID AT DOOR OF TARIFF

Washington, April 4. — Wallace Pierce, a Boston wholesale merchant, gave Senator Lodge and his fellow-protectionists on the committee investigating food prices, a bad half-hour when he gave concrete examples of how the tariff law had raised prices. He cited among articles of common use on which prices had been advanced, due to the Aldrich-Payne bill, olive oil, cheese, sardines, teas, coffee, macaroni, wines and liquors and cigars.

In the case of macaroni, he said, one-half a cent a pound was added to the cost because of a tax on the paper in which it was shipped, and in the case of olive oil an advance of one-half per cent. more per can was made necessary by the added tax upon the can.

Pierce declared that the tendency of all prices was upward and had been for 15 years. Wages, he asserted, were higher than ever before. Imported goods had advanced in prices about one-fourth, part of which was due to the tariff.

DISASTER OVERTAKES POMMERN

Big Balloon Drops Into the Baltic Sea Sunday Afternoon

THREE MEN MEET DEATH

Same Balloon Passed Over Newark During Races in October, 1907.

Stettin, Germany, April 4. — The German balloon Pommern, which made an ascension here Sunday afternoon, met with a series of accidents which ended in disaster under most tragic circumstances in the Baltic Sea. Three men lost their lives, including the Radical member of the Reichstag, Werner Hugo Del Brueck. Herr Del Brueck and another member of the party were drowned, a third occupant of the basket was picked up unconscious, and died soon from his injuries, while the fourth was rescued in a serious condition.

The Pommern, carrying Del Brueck, who was acting as pilot; a banker, Herr Sommerhardt; an architect, Herr Benduhn, and a man named Heim, ascended early in the afternoon at the gas works. The wind at the time was blowing a hurricane, and the Pommern broke away before she had been completely ballasted.

A chapter of accidents began immediately. The balloon, inflated with telegraph wires, which broke, almost overturning the basket. It then dashed into the roof of a neighboring factory, destroying the machine stack. With the basket swinging wildly, and half of its ropes out, the balloon soared to a great altitude and disappeared in the clouds at a terrific speed.

Thousands of onlookers, including a detachment of military, that had assisted in the ascent, ran along the roads, expecting the basket to break away. The balloon, however, was not seen again until it reached Swinemunde, 35 miles northwest of Stettin, over which it passed at a height of 6000 feet in the direction of the sea. Tugs followed in its track, one of them, which had outdistanced the other, was almost directly under it when suddenly the balloon fell into the sea. The tug steamed to the spot quickly, but the work of rescue was difficult. Already Del Brueck and Benduhn had disappeared, but Sommerhardt and Heim were clinging to the ropes and they were dragged aboard the vessel.

Describing their terrible experiences, Herr Sommerhardt, when he had been somewhat revived, said:

"Our collision with the telegraph lines and the factory roof had the most horrible consequences. Del Brueck sustained a broken leg and a severe injury to the head. Benduhn had an arm and leg fractured. Heim received a severe contusion of the head. I was knocked senseless, but recovered in a moment, to find that I had a crushed knee and chest. The network around the envelope was torn in such a manner that we feared every second the bag would slip out and we would crash down to the earth from a height of 6000 feet, to which we had ascended like a flash."

"Del Brueck, in spite of his awful condition, vainly endeavored to open the valve, which had become entangled. We knew not what to do, but merely awaited our fate."

"In the meantime we passed over Swinemunde at a great altitude and soon found ourselves above the sea. We thought possibly that we might land in Sweden, but the balloon was caught in a rain cloud, which drove us down, until we were within 150 feet of the sea. Del Brueck was suffering agonies, but he succeeded in pulling the tipping cord and we fell into the sea like a log. All managed to get clear of the basket. I, with Heim, swam and caught hold of the network, but Del Brueck and Benduhn sank. I remembered no more until I found myself in the boat which rescued us."

Heim died soon after being taken on the tug, and Del Brueck's body was washed ashore last evening.

The Pommern was the first balloon to pass over this city during the international balloon races in October, 1907. It was sighted at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, Oct. 22, in the northwestern part of the city and sailed in southeasterly course. The occupants at that time were Oscar Brueck, pilot, and Ernest Roach. The word Pommern could be easily mistaken for Pommeroy.

Little Chickens.
Frequently when hatching is irregular, some of the chicks are removed from the nest and put in a basket covered with a woolen cloth. If the chicks are of several different colors always leave one of each color with the hen, or she may refuse to mother some of the chicks from the hen or an individual until the down is thoroughly dry. When a chick is very weak revive by pouring down its throat a few drops of warm milk. Be careful that the chicks are not exposed to the cold. In raising chicks in brooders success depends upon cleanliness, food and management. There is no such thing as luck in raising chickens. If you do not follow the laws of nature you will not be able to have what is called bad luck with your chicks. I know a friend of mine who lost his young chickens last year from game because he let them run where there was an old woodpile years before. He knew what was causing the trouble but was too busy to put them on a board floor until they were six to eight weeks old, and consequently had bad luck with his chickens.

Another party neglected to clean his chicken house for about a year, and his chickens died with roup, and he said he had bad luck. Common sense is better than a lot of brains. Chicks are not like prospecting for gold, and there are no great rewards to be won that way. A man who has judgment and common sense will be successful in the poultry business. Now, if you have a brooder, it should be clean and dry. Take a little time and do it right. It means to clean it to suit your own taste and see it through. It is a long soap and water and then dry it out thoroughly. If you do it right it will be a success. I know a friend of mine who had bad luck with his chicks. Now, if you regard to heat of brooder, do not depend altogether on the thermometer, but watch the chicks. If they are scattered out and seem contented to eat and drink, but if they are huddled up under the cover with wings spread out it is too warm. If they huddle together they are too cold. This is no secret or system, but common sense.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poison will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. There it found a short resting place, owing to advance bookings, but in order to keep the play in New York, Henry B. There Miss Stahl and "The Chorus Lady" settled down and found a prosperous resting place for a period of forty-two consecutive weeks, scoring one of the greatest triumphs in the history of Broadway.

Miss Stahl is still winning praise as Patricia O'Brien, member of the chorus. The story is based on stage life, not in an idealized, artificial sense, but as it really exists back of the scenes. The play is in four

Recipe for April 5, 1910
Whole Wheat Muffins—Beat one egg light without separating and add to one and one-half cupful of milk. Add one teaspoonful of salt and one tablespoonful of sugar to one and one-half cupful of whole wheat flour. Add the liquid gradually to the flour, stirring all the while that the batter may be smooth. Beat well, add two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, turn into hot gem or muffin pans and bake in a moderately hot oven for 25 minutes.
Fish Salad—When broiled, baked or boiled fish is left from a dinner it may be utilized the next day in a salad. Fresh salmon needs only to have a skin removed, it is then served whole, the lettuce and mayonnaise put on the table separately. Or, the varieties should be cut the skin and bone removed, the fish broken in flakes and the dressing mixed in at least an hour before serving, so as to allow the dressing to permeate and season the fish more perfectly. Suitable additions to the salad may be pitted olives, cut pickles or other acid ingredients.

NEW POSTMASTER FOR ZANESVILLE

Washington, April 4.—The president today sent to the senate the nomination of George H. Stewart to be postmaster at Zanesville, O.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Catholics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is colorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is as easy to take as candy. They may be taken at any time either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store, Hall's Drug Store, 46 N. Side Square.

Nothing could be more positive or immediate in effect.

As a nerve and tissue builder, for filling out the figure and giving firmness to the flesh, it is unequalled.

And through its rich, red blood-making properties, it gives a better color and a finer texture to the skin.

You simply cannot help but feel better and look brighter, from the minute you begin taking it.

Besides, The Dr. Boyd Tonic is real health insurance.

By building up the system from head to foot, it gives a robustness making ailments impossible and overcoming disease.

Surely it will do for you what it is doing daily for hundreds of others.

"I Am Growing Plump"

A lady living in Hyde Park, Cincinnati, writes:—

"I wish to tell you that the Dr. Boyd Tonic has done wonders for me in general. At any rate, I am a new woman since using it. My whole system was in a most unusual and wretched condition. I seemed to exist mechanically rather than as a human being. I could not tell heat from cold or detect the difference between sugar and salt. And work as I might, I could not get into a perspiration. I did not sleep well and felt wrong every way. Now all is changed. Even my face is as smooth as a girl's and I eat and sleep like other people. I am growing plump and have the fine color I used to have. My nerves are now in splendid condition and I sleep like a top."

A three weeks treatment of this great tonic costs $1 at druggists, or will be sent direct promptly. But first ask for it at your druggists. Take no substitute, as there is nothing else like it.

Get The Dr. Boyd Tonic today—begin living tomorrow.

FRANCE WILL WELCOME TEDDY

Monsieur and Madame will try to make T. R. feel at home when he arrives in France.

ALL SILENT NOW.

Since the final report of the grand jury at Columbus on its graft investigation no Republican paper in Ohio has had the nerve to repeat any of its assertions so boastfully made about six months ago to the effect that Governor Harmon was unable to make good his campaign charges of graft at the state house.

The Tuscarawas Independent, the new Democratic paper at New Philadelphia says that "Congressman Ashbrook has been unanimously endorsed as a candidate for colonel by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of Dennison, O. This action was taken notwithstanding the fact that a large number of the members are Republicans. Approval of the manner in which Ashbrook has served his constituents was quite general."

TWO WIDOWS OF FORMER PRESIDENTS TO GET $5000 PENSION

Washington, April 4.—With the senate committee on pensions reporting favorably the granting of $5000 a year pension to Mrs. Frances F. Cleveland and Mrs. Julia Harrison it is predicted that the senate will pass

The bill without much trouble. However, a number of senators have declared they were opposed to granting the pension. The senate leaders declare they will see that the widows of both a Democratic and Republican president shall be remembered on the pension rolls and that the sum must be $5000 instead of $3400, as granted

TRAIN STRUCK FRANK BRADLEY MONDAY MORNING

Probably fatally injured by being struck by a B. & O. train, Frank Bradley, aged about 40 years and living at 40 St. Clair street, was picked up by Officer Hinger at 1 o'clock this morning and taken to his home in the patrol. Dr. W. S. Turner was called to attend him and found that his condition was extremely critical.

Bradley could not tell how the accident happened or where, but the train evidently struck him in the back, hurling him to one side of the track. As the principal injuries are to his left side and back, it is possible that he was sitting on the railroad ties and was not seen by the engineer or fireman for no report of the accident was filed at the railroad headquarters.

Officer Hinger was patrolling his beat when he was attracted by groans from the darkness. Snapping on his electric pocket light, he investigated and found Bradley lying a short distance from the track. Thinking the man was drunk the patrol was called, but upon making an investigation the policeman found his prisoner was badly injured, and, finding his address, took him to his home.

The investigation by Dr. Turner showed that several ribs were caved in and the left side was crushed, and internal injuries are feared. The patient is in great pain and cannot be moved, and his condition is regarded as very dangerous.

B. & O. ENGINEERS GET ADVANCE

Machinists in Cincinnati and Chillicothe will go out it is said when the order comes.

The Ohio Experimental Station in co-operation with the Ohio Corn Improvement Association, is making a study of the varieties of corn in Ohio. In 1909 fourteen counties had one or more county or township variety tests. The most of the varieties tested were those which some of the best farmers in that community were growing. The Experiment Station provided seed of some of the best known varieties. Eighteen of these tests were carried through in such a way that the results are of scientific value.

The average yield of the poorest variety in these tests was 35.4 per cent less than the average yield of the best variety. The two poorest varieties in each test averaged 20.2 per cent lower than the two best. In eight of the tests the winning variety was a local one. In the other ten an outside variety led the list. In no case, however, was the winning variety from outside the state. Comparing the yield of the local varieties, the poorest was 27.1 per cent less than the best.

COOKY JONES RETURNS FROM 6 MONTHS TRIP

Hon. Oriel C. Jones the mayor of Buckeye Lake, returned home Sunday after six months' absence during which time he circled the globe featuring India, Egypt, China and Japan on the trip. The mayor is now preparing a lecture which he will give at an early date in Taylor Hall.

While on the train near St. Louis Mr. Jones wrote a letter to the Advocate but he came as fast as the mail. The letter says:

I am now on the railroad on which I left Newark last October, and if the train is not dithered I will arrive at Newark station the first of the week getting off at the same spot I got on last October, covering land and sea just 31000 miles. I started east and still going east, and glad to be home again after six months' absence. When I left St. Louis I knew just where I was, even if I had been drunk, sober, asleep or awake, for I am free to say the Penny is in my mind the best railroad in the world (of course barring the B. & O. to Shawnee) for good track, good cars and nice service, she has them all skinned—I am not traveling on a passenger boat. I spent yesterday with Frank Jones, Geo. Stafford and Alex McKinney, all 49ers of Kansas City, and all Licking county born, having landed in Kansas City some 30 years ago. I was the guest of Frank Jones in the city and by the time he showed me the mayor I guess he has accumulated much money the root of all evil, and Frank surely has plenty of the root. By the way, he took me around in his auto and showed me the city and his property. We all talked over old boyhood days in Newark and this is the way the conversation ran:

Frank wanted to know about his teachers, Jennie and Mattie Jones, Aunt Seymour and wanted to know about Piggall Winegardner (Charles Winegardner), Horace Grafton (Geo. Grafton), Peggy Jennings (Frank Jennings), Billie Miller (W. E. Miller, Senator), and scores of others, and he said Cooky (O. C. Jones) could answer for himself. I told him the tombstones in Cedar Hill probably would remind him more of Newark the past than the present Newark and Frank said he supposed Newark now would show quite a population. I told him we claimed 20,000.

Frank took me down Petticoat lane and I was a little shaky being taken down such a place, and at the end it was very acceptable. It was a show window after show window like you see in Newark, Hebron and Granville.

I got the Advocate regularly and I hope the Legislature will get that Ohio canal ditch and the water works project of Newark settled before they spend all of the taxpayers' money. What short memory people have, and if they had not made the county so dry the last time the have been clearer. If they would let some of the money to make a water pool upon Horn's Hill, a place that is already purchased, and turn a pipe into the main line of the Newark City Water Works pipe, they would soon solve the problem of pure water and do away with germs, quackery, and have ample supply to furnish wholesome water for man, beast and fire protection.

I am sorry to read so many accounts of deaths of people in the last six months, but it will not make much difference to us all in the next 50 years for Old Father Time will have the majority of us. All the consolation we can have is:

"We come into this world all naked and bare. Our life is all full of trouble and care. Our exit out of it we know not where. But if we are good fellows here. We will be thoroughbreds there."

P. S.—No doubt my subjects at Buckeye Lake will ask me what interest I had in this writing. I stumbled onto a good receipt from an old Indian. It is a receipt not for corn or growing nails, as my people do little walking as it is a waterwagon city, and walking not very good, but the receipt reads like this: grows hair on any head, stops falling hair, removes dandruff, cures scalp disease. If it fails your money refunded. Now see the Mayor. As I need the money you need not look for a refund, but see me before it is too late, as I can deliver the goods. O. C. J.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my housework. My sickness was called 'Hysteria.' When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and did just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby boy."

Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 19, Black Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, beautiful female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT...

Sermon by
CHARLES T. RUSSELL,
Pastor Brooklyn
Tabernacle.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 3.—Pastor C. T. Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle preached here twice today to splendid audiences. One of his discourses was entitled, "The Overthrow of Satan's Empire." The other, which we report, was on the necessity for the Millennium from the text above quoted. Pastor Russell said:

Respecting two matters there can be no question:

(1) That the early Church thoroughly believed in a Millennial Kingdom, hoped for it, prayed for it—"Thy Kingdom come; thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven."

(2) It is equally certain that today the doctrine of the Millennium is taboos as "out of date"—out of harmony with the views of the Higher Critics and Evolutionists, who are filling practically all the chairs in our colleges and the majority of the pulpits of Christendom.

What has led to this radical change on the part of the religious wise men of all denominations? Have they taken a step in advance or are they departing from the path—from the teachings of the inspired Word of God? That they have left the Word of God, that they make light of it, that they profess far more wisdom and ability than the writers of the Bible and a higher intellectual inspiration than they, is indisputable. The question for us is, Will Christians in considerable numbers follow these leaders away from God, away from all Divine revelation? Will we put our trust in literary princes who claim the right to instruct the world, not by Divine appointment or authority, but by virtue of their large amount of self-esteem?

The present day concept of the Church of Christ is that God planted it amongst men as leaven in a batch of dough with the intent that it should propagate itself until the entire mass would be leavened. But the Bible apostolic concept of the Church's message is the very reverse of this—that it is planted in the world, not with a view to converting the world, but on the contrary to keep itself separate from the world and to draw to itself "As many as the Lord our God shall call" of the pure in heart—to sacrifice earthly interests for Divine interests, unto death, and later, by the First Resurrection, to enter into the heavenly glory of the Redeemer as his "Bride," his "Wife," his "Joint-Heir" in the Kingdom glory and the Kingdom work. And the work of that Kingdom is set forth to be the "blessing of all the families of the earth."

The two views are so radically opposite that none should confuse them in their minds. If one is right, the other is wrong. If one is Scriptural, the other is unscriptural. In the above item Dr. Brown admits that the Scriptural view entertained by the early Church contemplated the Church in suffering and in a temporary or tabernacle condition in the present life and promised a share with Christ in his reign in power and great glory, as God's Kingdom during the Millennium. The safe, the proper, the right course is to go back and take up afresh the doctrine of the Millennium—the doctrine that the faithful of the Church now being tried and tested will constitute the glorious Kingdom of God's dear Son after their change from earthly to spirit conditions in the "First Resurrection" (1 Corinthians xv, 42-44).

The Laymen's Movement.
God bless the Christian Endeavor and Epworth League and Students' Missionary League and the Laymen's Movement, all intent on "Storing the world for Jesus." We hear them witness that they have a zeal for God which we greatly admire and would encourage. But their zeal is "not according to knowledge," and is therefore considerably misdirected. To any one of logical mind, who will reason from statistics, the thought of converting the world by staging a few rousing hymns or holding a few enthusiastic meetings for the collection of money! money! money! would be childish. We do not despise childishness. We have all had our share. But we all should say with the Apostle, "When I was a child, I spoke as a child and understood as a child; but when I became a man I put away childish things" (1 Corinthians xiii, 11). "Christian people have been fooling themselves long enough!" Yes, it is as absolutely irrational to think of converting the world, as it is unscriptural to believe that God ever gave us that impossible commission. The United States census reports show that there are twice as many heathen today as there were a century ago. The word heathen carries to many a very wrong impression. Many noble-hearted Christians have gone as missionaries to the heathen wholly unprepared for what they met—intelligent reasoning ability, etc. They found that the heathen were full of questions, logical questions, too, which they as Christians had never thought of, and which they were wholly unprepared to

THE NECESSITY FOR THE MILLENNIUM.

"Times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord; and he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you; whom the heavens must retain until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began."—Acts iii, 19-21.

answer. Comparatively few of the missionaries are able to hold their own in argument with intelligent people in India, China, and Japan. There is no danger of their converting those people. There is more danger of their losing their own faith in the Bible, because of their misapprehension of some of its teachings—respecting the mission of the Church, the hope of the Church and the hope of the world!

Missionaries are thus handicapped! Full of commendable zeal they leave our shores to tell the heathen that their forefathers have gone to eternal torment and that they are going there, too, unless they accept Christ. It is a rude awakening to be asked where hell is? and why God should have condemned them and their forefathers to such a horrible eternity? and how this could be true and yet he be a God of pity, compassion, love? The heathen ask, Why the different denominations—the different theories of the terms of salvation—by Water, by Election, by Free Grace, by joining the Church, etc. The missionary, wholly unable to answer the adult native, gathers children about him, starts a school and does all he is able perhaps, to justify his presence in a foreign land—helping the sick and doing many other acts of kindness which are very commendable, whether from a religious or humanitarian standpoint.

Preach the Gospel to All Nations.

Our Lord's instruction was that his people should preach the Gospel in all the world for witnesses—not to convert all the world, but for a "witness" to all the world. The mission of the Gospel is to select the Kingdom class, a "little flock." The first opportunity to become members of this Royal Priesthood was offered to the Jews and, after the gathering of a remnant from them, and after their national rejection, the message was to go to the whole world irrespective of national lines, boundaries or language—anybody, everybody having the "hearing ear," was to be instructed respecting Christ and the opportunity of becoming his disciples by a full consecration of mind and body, time and talent, even unto death. These were to be promised the reward of a share in the First Resurrection, to be members of the Royal Priesthood which, during the Millennial Kingdom of Messiah, will bless all the remaining families of mankind—all the non-elect.

We are not complaining about the failure to convert the heathen! We are not faulting the missionaries! We are taking the Bible stand that all of God's purposes are being accomplished; that God's Word is accomplishing "that whereof it was sent" (Isaiah iv, 11); that it was not sent to convert the world, but to gather an "elect" sample or "first-fruits" from all nations (Revelation xiv, 4). Let civilizing influences continue in heathendom, as well as in Christendom. But let all Christians, missionaries and others, know assuredly that their labor is not in vain if they are seeking for the Lord's Jewels to the best of their ability. I am in touch continually with laborers in India and Africa and well know that the pure Gospel of Christ is not greatly affecting their teeming millions. But the Gospel of the Kingdom is seeking out, blessing, sanctifying, happyfying, encouraging some, here and there; some, who have ears of faith to hear, eyes of faith to see, and obedient hearts to obey the "call" to suffer with Christ and by and by to reign with him for the eternal blessing of all the families of the earth, by uplifting the willing out of their present conditions of sin and degradation and death.

The Millennium a Necessity.

We have shown the value and necessity for the doctrine of the Millennium—that all Christians who would hold fast to their Bibles as a faithful anchor and who would make progress in their study of the Word and be co-laborers with God in the gathering of "the elect" need to see that the elect only are now called to be heirs of the Kingdom for which we pray, "Thy Kingdom come." They need to see that that Kingdom is God's provision for the future blessing of the non-elect. They need to see that the Bible does not teach, as many of them suppose, that the saints are called of God to sit in the heavenly balcony and look over at the non-elect in eternal anguish, and hear their cries.

Next let us note that the Millennium itself is an absolute necessity for the world, according to the statistics of the worldly-wise. Many college professors and D. D.'s are inclined to speak glibly of the Second Coming of Christ being far in the future—"Fifty thousand years yet," say some. But evidently these learned gentlemen have not used their educational advantages in connection with such statements. Any school boy can figure up what the population of the earth would be one thousand years from now, taking the present population as per the census at sixteen hundred millions and the ratio of increase as shown by the census reports at 8 per cent in ten years. The total would show 3,375,325,000,000 population for the year 2900 A. D.—

more than 2,000 for each person now living.

What would humanity do if the earth were crowded to that extent? Where would the necessary food, fuel and clothing be found? Computing all the tillable portion of the earth at twenty-five million square miles or sixteen billion acres would give but one acre for the support of two hundred and ten people, or less than five square yards each. At the close of a second such period, 3900 A. D., at the same rate, there would be ten persons for each square foot of standing-room. In other words they would stand fifteen deep on each other's heads. What shall we think of the wisdom that tells us that the Millennium is fifty thousand years off? The answer is found in Isaiah's prophecy (xxix, 14).

Are we asked how the Millennium if at once introduced would avert the difficulties of the first statement, two hundred and ten people for each acre of the habitable earth? We reply that the Scriptures clearly intimate that the rapid increase of our race is associated with man's fallen condition; as our Creator declared to mother Eve after her disobedience, "I will greatly multiply thy sorrows and thy conception" (Genesis iii, 16).

The Earth Shall Yield Her Increase.

The Scriptures also intimate that with the return of humanity towards perfection the average increase will be less, and that eventually the human family will come to the condition where there will be neither marriage nor giving in marriage, and where sex conditions will be lost in a uniform standard of humanity embodying the qualities at present displayed in the two sexes. Further, God's promise for the Millennium is that under his blessing the earth will yield her increase and the waste places be reclaimed, springs breaking forth in deserts. Furthermore, recognizing the Divine power in connection with the matter we can readily see how vast continents can be raised in the Atlantic and in the Pacific Ocean. But aside from these miracles which properly enough could accompany the Millennial Kingdom of Christ, what can the world who ignore the Bible expect? In other words what shall they expect who claim that the present order of things is to continue, saying, "All things continue as they were from the beginning of the world?" (1 Peter iii, 4).

Some may inquire, What about the resurrection of the millions who have died? We reply that the world has been only gradually working up to its present dense population. The people living in the world for the past six thousand years, according to what we believe are trustworthy evidences, would number altogether about twenty thousand millions. But more than twice that number could be buried in the State of Texas in separate graves and more than eight times that number could find standing room in Texas, as a school-boy with his pencil could readily demonstrate.

But we need not look a thousand years ahead. The world will find itself in great trouble very shortly unless the Millennium be ushered in. Already there is a shortage of timber. What will be the condition of things one hundred years from now? Already our capitalists are buying up the coal deposits on speculation, realizing that its rapid consumption is making it more valuable every year. Already geologists are calculating the number of tons of coal not yet mined and telling us that with the present average of increase in the consumption of coal the entire supply of the world will be exhausted in less than two hundred years. What will be the price of coal as the vanishing point is neared? and how will mankind do without it, and without wood for fuel unless the Millennium come promptly with its miraculous provisions—the taking of fuel from our atmosphere, and from water, by methods which will, no doubt, be simple, when mankind come to understand them fully, but which at present are so expensive as to be of little service.

Other scientific men have been studying the increase of insanity and telling us that progress in this direction is terrific. Some have estimated that in less than two hundred years the entire world, at the present rate, will be insane. How opportune it would be for the Millennium Kingdom of the great Life-Giver to be ushered in with its uplifting influences, mental, moral and physical!

Last but not least the combination of wisdom and selfishness in our day, known as Unions and Trusts, is so influential that prices in every commodity are rising. Yet the trusts are not quite ripe yet. Their managers have not fully learned their power. Gradually the upper and the nether millstones will apparently be drawn closer together, while necessity will force the masses through the hopper. How great would those "giants" become within another century or so, if the Millennium be not ushered in by the interim to "lift the poor and needy out of the dunghill"—in the scriptural figure of the work of the Kingdom! (Psalm cxlii, 7).

My friends, let us stick to the Bible and its Millennial theory. So doing we will be guided by the wisdom from on high and enabled to pray with the spirit and the understanding also. "Thy Kingdom come; they will be done on earth as it is done in heaven," and to labor intelligently as co-workers with God! Let us prepare as pupils in the School of Christ for the great work whereunto God has called us by the Gospel Message.

"Even so, Come, Lord Jesus; Come quickly!"

LOOKS BETTER FOR TAFT BILLS.

Measures Will Probably Pass in Some Form.

OUTLOOK ALARMS CONGRESS.

Washington, April 3.—The passage of the postal savings bank and railroad bills in some form is now believed by Republican members of congress to be certain. The frank talk of the president to the Ohio delegation and the resultant proposal of a house Republican caucus to take action on the two measures have done much to clarify the atmosphere. As amended by the house committee the railroad bill is said by its friends to be a distinct advance on the present law, giving the interstate commerce commission enlarged powers in several directions. As for the postal savings bank act, it is proposed to push it through as a party measure. These are the two policies on which the president places the greatest emphasis. In the matter of conservation it is probable that the president will be voted his reclamation bonds and that the powers of the secretary of the interior over the withdrawal of water site, coal, phosphate and timber lands will be enlarged. The fate of the other conservation bills is uncertain. The measure granting separate statehood to Arizona and New Mexico will be passed if Senator Beveridge ever gets around to it. The Moon anti-injunction bill is somewhere along the road, but nobody seems to know exactly where. My own guess now is that the majority of the bills named will get through, possibly all of them. Several things point to this conclusion, one of which is that the house insurrection and the Massachusetts election have convinced congress that something must be done. November is coming, and the voters of the country have shown that they are in no mood to be trifled with. That sort of argument has weight in congress, especially just before a congressional election.

Another Special Election.

In the wake of the election of Foss in Massachusetts will come the special election of a successor to the late James Breck Perkins of the Thirty-second district of New York. The special election is scheduled for the 18th of this month, and, while the district is overwhelmingly Republican, Perkins having had over 10,000 plurality two years ago, it is understood that the Democrats will make a determined fight to capture the seat. They are encouraged to do this not only by the Massachusetts result, but by the fight in his own party against George W. Aldridge. The Thirty-second district is comprised of Monroe county, of which Rochester is the county seat. Aldridge has long been the Republican leader of the county and as such has aroused antagonisms, especially among the friends of Governor Hughes. The contest will attract nation wide interest.

The Mississippi Scandal.

The bribery charge in the Mississippi senatorial election indicates a disposition to do a little house cleaning by both parties. Senator Percy, in whose interest the alleged bribery is said to have been used, denies knowledge of the transaction. The death of Mr. Laurin inaugurated quite a chapter in Mississippi politics, including the brief but glorious occupancy of the seat by Senator James Gordon. The second fight of Vardaman, the election of Percy and this aftermath of scandal. The affair recalls a talk I recently had with an Alabama lawyer who was in Washington on business. According to his story, there is a fight in almost every southern state, just as in the north, between the corporations and the people. He asserted that Vardaman was the standard bearer of the people and that he would clean up his enemies in the next state primaries. This lawyer also made the interesting prediction that M. W. Howard of Alabama, who served in the house several years ago as a Populist, would this year be returned to the body as a Democrat.

Fight For Mudd's Seat.

Another district in which the Democrats will make a fight is that of Sydney Emanuel Mudd of Maryland. Mr. Mudd, who is serving his seventh term, is ill and has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election. As he was elected two years ago by only 317 plurality out of a total vote of over 30,000 and as it will prove difficult for the Republicans to find another man in the district of equal strength, the Democrats are sanguine of capturing the seat. There will be no special election in this case.

Still a Chance For Income Tax.

Despite the adverse action in Georgia and elsewhere, there is still a chance that the income tax amendment to the federal constitution may eventually be adopted. As I understand it, Georgia did not reject the measure, but simply postponed action. The constitution provides that an amendment must be ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states, or thirty-five of the forty-six. Washington, April 4.—It becomes more and more evident that the administration is after the grafters. Washington is determined to clean house at least in the states. Whether or not it will ever clean its own house is another question. From the number of investigations there is hope that it may do so. At any rate, the states are to be scrubbed and fumigated. There may have been some point to the charge of the Alldis lawyers in Albany that influence from Washington played a part in rolling up the decisive majority against the condemned senator. It might not be a bad guess to say that "influence from Washington" also had something to do with starting the fire insurance investigation in New York and that it may be exerted to compel other inquiries in the Empire State and elsewhere. It is an open secret that the president as head of the party regards it his duty to purge the organization of all taints of grafting and bribery. His attitude concerning the inquiry in his own state of Ohio is a case in point. True, this investigation was started by Governor Harman and others, but there has been no uncertain note in the president's insistence that it be made thorough. A more recent illustration is at hand. It is now reported that the federal government is ready to do everything in its power to aid the prosecutions in Pittsburg, two representatives of the department of justice having been sent to the Smoky City to help turn on the light. The procedure in the New York custom house inquiry, in the Alldis case, in the fire insurance investigation, in the Ohio disclosures, in the Pittsburg bribery cases and in other inquiries ought to give a welcome if belated assurance to the American people that from henceforth graft and bribery should be put down under the head of perilous occupations.

Will There Be a Rehearing?

The death of Justice Brewer has given rise to the prediction of a rehearing in the tobacco trust, Standard Oil and corporation tax cases. There seems little probability that such a rehearing will be necessary. In the case of a divided court, say of four to three out of the seven justices now sitting, it is conceivable that a rehearing might be ordered, but only in that event. Five justices make a constitutional majority of the court, and with five justices agreeing there would be no occasion for a rehearing. Of course nobody knows and nobody can know in advance what a decision of the United States supreme court will be. Yet, judging by the action in the lower courts and by precedent in the supreme court itself, I have no hesitation in predicting that the decision in the tobacco trust and Standard Oil cases will be for the government and that no rehearing will be ordered. Somebody has said that the seven justices sitting are unanimous in their finding. That is the merest guesswork and even if it proves accurate will still remain guesswork. Yet it is within bounds to say that practically every informed man here expects the government to be sustained in the two trust decisions. As to the corporation tax case, few care to give an opinion.

AL SCHWEITZER INJURES FINGER

Al Schweitzer, who seems destined to have a brilliant season with the St. Louis Browns, and who will shine if his underpinning only behaves, had a finger on his right hand badly bruised during the practice of the Muttis at Sportsmans park Wednesday afternoon. He was working out on third with Catcher Allen hitting to the infield. Allen cut a speedy one down his way. He skidded over for the sphere and went down for a stop. The ball took a bad bound and put a painful bump on his finger.

C. M. A. WINS.

The C. M. A. ball team won in a fast game with the Oriol team of Zanesville Sunday afternoon at Wehrle park. The score was 9 to 6. The Oriol team is the strongest team in Zanesville and up to the 7th inning it looked as though our boys were going to have it handed to them. But in the 7th they tightened up and put five runs across the plate, after which everything went their way. The score:
